Mr. Shellman will take charge this week, while Mr. Evans will move to the home now occupied by Mr. Shellman. Mr. and Mrs. Shellman's wide acquaintance and hospitality will, together with their liberal providing, will hold patronage and gain new trade for this popular house.

A whole host of office bees are buzzing in Republican honets in the county since the election. Several candidates have announced for almost all the offices. However, the county clerk's, the jailor's and the Sheriff's places seem the most eagerly sought. Your correspondent will gladly announce each one as they will let their desires be known.

HUNTING SEASON.

Opens Sunday, Man Gun and Dog Getting in Trim. Farms Being Posted.

Sunday the hunting season opens and the sportsmen are busy getting ready for a great onslaught on the quail family. Many of the farms around Cloverport have been posted against invasion by hunters and a notice appears in this week's News, warning all persons not to trespass upon forbidden grounds.

Hunting will indeed be dangerous to the farms and the quail family, on account of the probability of fire, owing to the recent dry spell.

IN MEMORIAL

Mrs. James Basham was born May 31-1861 died at her home at Mt. Vernon Ill. Oct 10-1908. Before marriage she was a Miss Hendry daughter of Alex Hendry deceased. While quite young she professed faith in Christ and joined the Baptist church at this place and was a consistent member until death. She had been a cripple and an invalid all her life but always bore her suffering with true Christian faith.

Though never well she had only been very ill about ten days before she died.

When her mother reached her bed side on Thursday evening before she died. She told her she had come too late. She realized her stay on earth was but a short while. She prayed to die. She was married to Mr. Taylor Basham Nov. 30 1899.

She leaves a husband an aged mother, and the following sisters and brothers to weep for her Mrs. Mary Burch, Teresta, Mo. Who had not seen her for four years and contemplated visiting her soon had she lived.

Mrs. Georgia Wallace Troy Tenn. Mr. Sandy Mrs. Cora Beard, Miss Josie Roscoe and Winfield all of Kentucky.

To prove that Janie had many friends was shown by the large crowd that attended her burial, also by the beautiful bunch of flowers sent by the good ladies from her home at Mt. Vernon, Ill.

Her family express their sincere thanks to the good people of Mt. Vernon for their kind and kindness during the illness and death of their daughter and beloved sister. At her request her remains were brought here and laid to rest by her father on Monday following her death which occurred on Saturday at 12 45 P. M.

She was a true wife, obedient daughter, kind and affectionate sister and always had a kind word for every one and seemed almost like a mother to her younger brothers and sisters.

The writer extends her deepest sympathy to the family especially to the three sisters and brother that could not have a last look on their dear sister's face.

Blessed are they that die in the Lord.

A Friend.

Best Ever.

The News gets many compliments and kind remembrances, but few of them have come up to the one given the Assistant Editor last Sunday—it was a pig from the farm of Mr. Herbert Board, at Hardinsburg. The Assistant Editor is perfectly delighted with the gift and can hardly wait until its big enough to drive to market.

Will Finish Church

Rev. E. B. Williams, colored, is taking up a collection among the citizens of this place for the purpose of completing the African M. E. Zion church in Eastland.

The annual meeting of the Farmer's Institute of Perry county opened at Tell City, Ind., yesterday and will convene until Friday of this week.—Cannelton Enquirer.

SOCIETY NOTES.

The members of the Epworth League were entertained in grand style in the parlors of the Methodist church Thursday evening. Miss Edith Burns, the social president of the League, assisted by Misses Margaret Burn, Edith and Eva Plank and Jennie Mabel Harris, had charge of the entertainment.

Miss Eva McGlothlin, of Irvington, who spent the week end with Miss Louise Babbage, was the guest of honor at an oyster luncheon given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Younger Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James Montgomery announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Emma Montgomery to Mr. Henry Wathen, of Hardinsburg. The date of the wedding, which will be a quiet one, has not been determined.—Elizabethtown Mirror.

Miss Ruth McCracken and Mr. Ernest Cecil and Miss Elizabeth McCracken and Mr. Gus Wheatley were the contracting parties in a double wedding ceremony which was solemnized at Stithon Tuesday. The brides are sisters and are the accomplished daughters of Mr. Willis McCracken, of near here. The grooms are young farmers from Meade county. The wedding took place in the Catholic church, Father Henry officiating.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wash Rhodes Sunday afternoon at 3.30. The contracting parties were Miss Lillie Rhodes and Charles R. Fagin, of Cincinnati. The ceremony was performed by Father Holleran.—Meade Messenger.

The Girls' Club will meet at the home of Miss Anne Jarboe this afternoon.

Mrs. Ella Jordan has just gotten a handsome Cecellan for the St. George Hotel. It is one of the very best makes and the tone is beautiful. Mrs. Jordan's friends are delighted over her getting the instrument and will enjoy the music as much as she does.

Miss Lula Severs entertained the members of her Sunday School class Saturday afternoon. Those present were: Misses Martha Miller, Jeanette Burns, Susette Sawyer, Virginia McGavock and Mildred Babbage.

The Ladies Reading Club will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Chas. Skillman.

GOOD HIGHWAY HELPS

How to Solve the Problem of Clean Roadside.

DESTROY NOXIOUS WEEDS.

Build Good Fences in Front of Farms. Use the Drag and Harrow Until Cold Weather—Tip on Improving Soil Roads.

It is encouraging to see the attention that is being paid to good roads all through the United States. Various state organizations are taking the matter up, national conventions are being held, and an international meeting was recently called to convene in France. Everything points toward better highways, better facilities for marketing crops and better conditions for the farmer.

A good road brings one nearer to his neighbors, nearer to his church and school and nearer to his market. The time will soon come when one will speak of a farm as being ten minutes distant from town rather than two miles. The popularity which the automobile is rapidly acquiring among farmers will promote this good roads movement.

In line with this movement the following suggestions on the improvement of roads are of value:

There is a splendid opportunity for the individual to help the good work along by taking care of the roads in front of his own farm. There is no surer method than to take pride in the road that goes past your door. D. Ward King began his successful road campaign in this way. It has spread from a little Missouri town to all parts of the world.

There is one line of road improvement that is more easily carried out than any other and consequently more frequently overlooked. Every roadway can be kept free from noxious weeds with comparatively little labor if the matter is taken up promptly. Each weed that matures bears a more prolific crop of seed than its predecessor. If the fence corners and the roadside are kept free it will be an easy matter to exterminate the undesirable weed pests which are causing the question of clean roads. You cannot drag your road you can at least have regard for your adjacent field to keep the weeds from growing the roadside.

When time, labor and money have been expended upon the beds of country roads and highways there is the hope of compensation in the way of improvement.

If the farmer west of the Mississippi is blessed with a good road leading to and from his farm, why shouldn't he pay some attention to the roadside? There are instances where he has an excuse. A rank growth of weeds and briars may be more pleasing to look at than the fence they hide, but where land is worth $50 or more per acre he forfeits that excuse. A good, well constructed fence along the highway will arouse a certain amount of pride, which acts as an incentive to get busy with the scythe and ax and clean up.

Many county supervisors and members of the Iowa Good Roads association are advocating the building of a good highway fence, one which will be an effective guard against trespass and add beauty to the landscape as the real solution of the clean roadside problem.

Most of the road tax has been worked out. Presumably country roads will need no further attention until next summer, but they do just the same. They must be kept clean, graded and leveled continuously until frozen solid. This is easy; this is important. Neglect it and the vast amount of work and money expended will be largely wasted. This is the weakness of the present system of road management in the middle west. The work is not economically done. There has been some improvement of late years, but not much. Let the farmers help by dragging and harrowing newly made or repaired roads until cold weather.

A good way to improve a sand road is to spread a coating of clay over it with a manure spreader.

CURED RHEUMATISM

Nearly everybody is susceptible to a twinge of rheumatism, sciatica, toothache, headache or neuralgia, and it is never safe to be without a good remedy for an emergency of this kind.

No matter what kind of pain you have the beneficial effect of Sloan's Liniment is immediate. You lay it on lightly—no rubbing whatever and a pleasant warmth is felt at once. The Liniment penetrates right to the bone and quickly stops the pain.

Mr. Chas. J. Budlong of Anthony, R. I., Box 125, writes: "For many years I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism. My hips would swell to enormous proportions and my knee joints would pain me in the most excruciating, awful manner imaginable. I used often to have to fall from the bed into a chair and thence to the floor, when I wanted to get from my bed. I used only some six or eight bottles of your celebrated Liniment and was cured. I cheerfully recommend its use to all rheumatic sufferers. Refer to me if you so desire. All letters answered."

NEW ROAD MACHINE.

Grading Attachment That Can Be Put Upon Any Tractor Engine.

Streets of Holdrege, Neb., have been improved and beautified by a very unique and unique machine, the road and street grading machine, the invention of Elijah A. Hollenbeck of Pank, Neb. The machine was built by Mr. Hollenbeck himself and is a masterpiece of engineering. It is a simple machine, but it is a machine that can be put upon any tractor engine, and it is a machine that can be used for grading, for leveling, for cutting a straight bank to any length desired. The dirt is dropped from the middleboard upon a belt conveyor passing under the boiler of the engine and deposited in the middle of the street or road to make the grade. The outer end of this elevator can be raised or lowered to meet requirements.

Mr. Hollenbeck, the inventor, is a young farmer who has lived on a farm all his life. He has had no special training as a machinist, his only education is that line being that gleaned from practical experience in operating thrashing machines and other kinds of farm machinery.

Keep Out of Rut—Save Roads.

It is not unlikely that American farmers who have with them always the question of clean roads, will find to maintain them may find in the following order, which was issued by the Panama canal commission to officers and men on the isthmus, a question of how carelessness contributes to making good roads bad and bad roads worse. The order says:

"Notices have been posted at the corals, and the coral foremen have instructed them that the custom of wagons following in one another's tracks must be discontinued. Considerable of the maintenance work on the macadam roads, especially during the wet season, is made necessary by wagons wearing deep ruts. The teamsters have been instructed to distribute travel over the full width of the highways, and it is believed that the cost of road repairs will be reduced as soon as compliance with these instructions becomes general."

Grading a Roadbed.

It is simply extraordinary the lack of judgment shown by many who undertake to shape a roadbed. The road allowance in various states is sixty-six feet. In rounding up a roadbed the earth is sometimes moved toward the center from nearly the entire distance of the width of the road. This means that the ditches for carrying away the water are not distant from the fences that edge the highway. The roadbed is entirely too wide. It cannot be sufficiently rounded toward the center, and the lower edges of the crosswalk panels of the door. Screw larger hooks at each end of the panels and stretch the door springs attached to the door across the top of the distance of the spring from the bottom of the panel varies according to the size of the covers. The hooks for the springs from the large covers should be put about the middle of the panel and for the smallest covers quite near the bottom.

Mr. Highfield—Money talks, doesn't it? Mrs. Highfield—Oh, yes; but it is sometimes seen as if it needed a voice loaner or something.—Exchange.

Can you believe your senses?

When two of them, taste and smell, having been impaired by not being destroyed, by Nasal Catarrh, are fully restored by Ely's Cream Balm, can you doubt that this remedy deserves all that has been said of it by the thousands who have used it? It is applied directly to the affected air-passages and begins its healing work at once. Why not get it today? All druggists or mailed by Ely Bros., 36 Warren St., New York, on receipt of 50 cents.

HINTS FOR BUSY WOMEN.

How Newspapers on Kitchen Tables Prove Traveling Utilities.

The faithful reader of the Atlantic Monthly Magazine will remember well the young woman who confessed in an issue of two or three years ago that the source of her remarkable knowledge of information and her broad knowledge of affairs was all due to her grandmother's uncomprehending ideals of economy and cleanliness. Way she kept the kitchen table freshly scrubbed and the board above the sink washed and scoured? Then cover them with newspapers. Newspapers were everywhere, and as this young woman, who was then a girl in her early teens, pared the apples or shelled the peas or washed the dishes thrice daily her eyes traveled up and down the columns of those papers that shrouded everything about her. Editorials and news items, all were allies to her. She read them all and, reading, remembered.

The methods of today are neither so deliberate nor so particular as to permit this sort of newspaper education, but a contributor to a current magazine suggests another method by which she obtains a liberal education while "on the wing," as it were.

She is a busy woman and can spare only a few minutes each day for the papers. A heavy slanting of the head and a look at the leading articles in the magazines may be all that she has time for, but there are often long articles on art, literature or matters of national importance which she longs to read through. So she has formed the habit of marking these articles, and after the other members of the family have read the paper one of the children cuts the marked pieces out and slips them into the mother's pocketbook. This can be read through on the car when waiting for an appointment or at other odd seasons and thoroughly enjoyed. And so in the end this busy woman finds herself not so far behind the times, after all.

Design For Street Costume.

The drawing shows a very attractive costume for street wear, the coat having the newest features of the season.

DESIGN FOR STREET COSTUME.

The model is in black broadcloth, with revers and main pockets of white buttons, but the model is also especially well adapted to soft, flat fur, such as pony skin or caracul. The skirt of the gown is waist-length, in a good circular, and the sleeves are small and fitted without fullness into the armhole.

Kitchen Help.

A dozen grains of rice in a saltwater will absorb dampness and keep the salt from the corners of the eyes.

An alarm clock kept in the kitchen may be set to ring at the time the vegetables should be put over the fire or the hot bread or the cake or pudding is due to be done and as a guide to time in many other matters.

Backs for kettle and pan covers may be made on the back of the doors of kitchen closets and will save much trouble. Get brass screw hooks and arrange them on the lower edges of the crosswalk panels of the door. Screw larger hooks at each end of the panels and stretch the door springs attached to the door across the top of the distance of the spring from the bottom of the panel varies according to the size of the covers. The hooks for the springs from the large covers should be put about the middle of the panel and for the smallest covers quite near the bottom.

The covers or fat traps slipped between the springs and the doors will rest on the hooks along the lower edge.

For Milk Bottles.

A little rubber lid for milk bottles is now on sale at the grocery stores. These are circular pieces of flexible white rubber with a little round button in the center, and they fit in any milk bottle, taking the place of the nerve taping paper top or the old tin form. These rubbers cost 5 cents each and last just as long as the old ones will never be without them.

Milk bottles should be carefully wiped about the top with a wet cloth before removing the pashboard top.

BENEFITS IN DISEASE.

Typoid, if You Pull Through, Gives You A New Stomach.

GOOD EVEN IN RHEUMATISM.

That Painful Affliction Keeps Other Miseries Out of the System and is a Promoter of Long Life—Blessings of Colds and Smallpox.

To be struck down by disease seems a most undesirable thing yet there are many living today in the fullest enjoyment of very excellent health who but for an attack of some disease would have lived a life of almost perpetual misery.

These people were, first of all, victims of indigestion in its worst form, and only those who have experienced it know what true indigestion is. Struck down by typhoid fever, they came through the trying ordeal cured of indigestion, for one outstanding peculiarity of typhoid is that if you pass through an attack safely it gives you a new stomach. In fact, after an attack of typhoid the victim is usually left with a stomach like an infant.

That is the grand chance offered to one who has suffered. It may be, for long years from some indigestion, if only he takes care, after an attack of typhoid he need never know indigestion again.

It is remembered that any one troubled with severe indigestion is not advised to go hunting around for typhoid fever. That might prove to be a disastrous mistake.

A chronic cold is just one of those things which none of us want, yet even a chronic cold has its good points, more especially if you happen to be up in years a bit—not too old, of course. People who are up in years and who suffer from chronic bronchitis seem to get remarkably well when they have a cold. It keeps the blood in good circulation, for, of course, the cold gives the heart a jerk and sends the blood coursing nicely through the veins and arteries.

If the cold be not too acute, old people derive considerable benefit. An attack of cold, if it is not too severe, cuts off an old person in a day or two. It is the chronic type only which yields benefit.

Smallpox is a dreaded scourge, so much so that if it is reported that a case exists in a neighborhood a thrill passes through the whole community. Yet those who suffer from smallpox and recover usually live to a green old age. It seems to renew life in some mysterious way by thoroughly purifying the blood.

If, however, you desire to attain to a ripe old age, you cannot get on at all without rheumatism. Consider the hosts of old folks you encounter hobbling about, grumbling all the day about their bones and joints. In all probability these old people would have been in their graves years before but for this very rheumatism.

The reason is that if rheumatism is in the system it keeps other ills out. It makes a grand fighting force and keeps most other enemies of the human frame at bay, especially those of the germy type.

Very naturally if you have such a grand friend at hand you have to pay something for aid rendered, but the pain of rheumatism, if shockingly severe at times, is not deadly, and that is why one gets so little sympathy when suffering from rheumatism.

But the plain fact is that a slight malady always benefits you, even if indirectly. As an example of that, say a very bad spell of weather comes and you get wet, and you contract a slight chill.

What do you propose to do? Why, to take the greatest care of yourself and not let the cold get on you. If your cold gets no chance of developing into anything worse. Now, did that very slight cold not make its appearance and cause you to be extremely careful of what you did there is no saying what might happen to you any day during a spell of evil, cold weather. You might have exposed yourself so much that a severe chill would have seized you, followed by inflammation of the lungs.

Accordingly a slight cold may easily save you from many worse ills. In this way minor afflictions act as warnings that worse things are coming along, but unfortunately many persons quite neglect these warnings. A man, for example, has indigestion more or less constantly, yet pays little heed to it. He does not realize that the lower edges of the crosswalk panels of the door. Screw larger hooks at each end of the panels and stretch the door springs attached to the door across the top of the distance of the spring from the bottom of the panel varies according to the size of the covers. The hooks for the springs from the large covers should be put about the middle of the panel and for the smallest covers quite near the bottom.

Every pain, every ache, every headache—all these are warnings that something is on the way and will be along shortly—Pearson's Weekly.

An Idea of Business.

"Does your in-law know anything about business?" "Well," answered Mr. Cunroo doubtfully, "he has had a lot of experience in the poultry business, and he knows how to get a check raised."—Washington Star.

The Lightweight Champion.

Stimpkins—You say that little man was formerly the lightweight champion? Tim ins—Yes, Simkins—How did he lose the title? Tim ins—Oh, he didn't lose it; he merely sold it to a grocery and retired.—Chicago News.

VALUE OF WIDE TIRES.

One of the First Essentials to Good Highways.

The King dog is no doubt a good thing, but how about the wide tired wagon? Observe the dirt road after a thorough soaking. The farmer cannot work in his fields, and, having some wheat, corn, oats or hogs to haul to market, the time to haul is while the fields are mud to be worked, saving time by doing so.

He loads his product into his one and a half inch deep wagon, 2,000 pounds or more, and probably hitches four horses to his load, and along the whole distance he cuts a rut from three to six inches deep. Several of his neighbors do likewise, and soon the road is worked down to the consistency of mortar a foot deep, says J. P. Anderson of Agenda, Kan., in a Farmers Advocate. All observers will bear me out when I say that if these tires had been four inches or more the road would have been benefited rather than damaged. A wide tire under a load makes an observer think of a roller.

I think this wide tire proposition is one of the best of the essentials to good roads and should be encouraged by legislation and a limit law for the amount of load for every inch of tire width. If seven tires were required to be three inches or more for 2,000 pound loads and one additional inch for each added 1,000 or major fraction thereof, so much less work would be required to maintain our roads.

OUT FOR THE BEST ROADS.

Why the West Believes in Building Highways For Automobiles.

"The good roads movement in the east does not compare with that of the west," said Horace O. Gordon of the Oklahoma Good Roads association when he was in New York on a visit.

"I think the work of the good roads movement in the west has stirred up the public demand and desire for the best roads in the world in the west, but I do not believe the eastern states are carrying out the work so thoroughly as the western states.

"We in the west appreciate the fact that the opening of the western country depends entirely upon its roads, and we are not going to build highways which will last merely a decade, like your eastern state roads, to be torn up by automobiles.

"We are building roads which the motor cars cannot tear up. We feel that the automobile can do us more harm than good because we have to cover hundreds of miles where you in the east cover tens of miles.

"It seems a ridiculous thing to build a road for the use of the horse, which is on the decline, and then when the automobile comes along and tears it up to jump up and yell that the motor car is destroying our roads. The thing to do is to build roads for the automobile, and then the horse can use them as long as he lasts, which will not be a great while."

Forest Service and Good Roads.

Realizing that with thicker settlement and increasing use of the national forests good roads will become more and more a crying necessity, it has been arranged that the office of public roads of the department of agriculture shall co-operate with the forest service in drawing up plans for comprehensive systems of roads and trails in the national forests. Hitherto the funds allotted by congress to the forest service for permanent improvements on national forests have largely been used for road and trail building, but amounting to a small percentage with the total area of the forests to make possible more than a small beginning.

Building each year under the new arrangement can be done with reference to a carefully worked out plan, preventing the danger of undirected effort in roads, trails, telephone lines and fire lines already constructed in national forests are proving of great value both in the work of fire protection and in the convenience of the people. The further this work can be carried the greater will be the usefulness of the forests to the surrounding regions. This is only one of the many ways in which the forest service is promoting the interests of the people.

Poor Roads Bad For Smokers.

"It's hard to run out of 'tobacco' during wet times," complained a farmer, "because headed off from the source of supply by impassable roads and with nothing to do but to brood over a situation."

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1908.

Oratory does not win votes. Deeds do.

Hitchcock is good Presidential timber.

Prosperity? Why it is all ready in sight.

It was the sober second thought that won the election.

Col. James M. Guffey is not a bit sorry over last Tuesday's work.

"We seen the enemy and they done us. Thats all there is to it," says Fingy Connors.

All the world seems to be satisfied with Mr. Taft's election, and old Breckenridge—God bless her—stands among the rejoicing.

The first speech Mr. Taft made after his election was to a Methodist conference. That is what we call the true Christian spirit.

We heard a leading Kentucky Democrat singing:—
 "Hail! Hail! The gangs on deck
 What in the hell do we care?"

Mr. Taft has the distinguished honor of being the first President who has circumnavigated the globe. That is one reason why the Nations are so rejoiced, especially Japan. They all know him and wanted him to be President.

Brief News Notes.

The out-look for better times is extremely encouraging and as a result of the election of Mr. Taft, it has been learned by the American Industries that about 650,000 idle men will be given work at once.

Prominent citizens of Danville, Ky., have inaugurated a movement to persuade W. J. Bryan to locate in that city. If they get him, it is their purpose to run him for United States Senator.

Dispatches say that the turkey crop in Central Kentucky will be short this year owing to the wet weather last spring.

Last week the first sale at the Danville Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse took place. The Tobacco brought an average price of $21.03 per hundred.

Former Senator Edward W. Carmack, editor of the Tennessean, was shot and killed Monday by Robin Cooper, a son of Col. Duncan B. Cooper. The trouble is one of the results of the recent Democratic gubernatorial primary in which Carmack was defeated.

Postal From John Ditto.

Hurrah! Confidence and prosperity assured! A million men already pnt to work. Why were they idle? Send me a copy of the Breckenridge News to Paris, Tenn. I want to see how you are rejoicing. Mighty long face Democrats take this way. Our time is coming. I got me a brand new lead pencil early Wednesday morning so as to be ready for business. A Republican would not have done that. He would have stood about and held back all he could against the Democrats. Good cheer to every body. Let us live long and be happy and make the best of it. The drought is terrible.

John T. Ditto.
 Pembroke, Ky., Nov. 9, 1908.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup not only heals irritation and allays inflammation, thereby stopping the cough, but it moves the bowels gently and in that way drives the cold from the system. Contains no opiates. It is pleasant to take, and children especially like the taste, so nearly like the maple sugar. Sold by all druggists.

Whipped But Not Conquered.

Dear Mr. Babbage:—Once again in my great sorrow over Democracy's defeat do I extend congratulations to you. Whipped but not conquered is my only consolation.

With best wishes from the Lone Star State.

Very truly,
 Mrs. Sue Hunter Mercer.
 Childress, Texas, Nov. 4, 1908.

SAVE THIS

Put It In Some Safe Place, for It May Come in Handy Some Day.

Here is a simple home-made mixture as given by an eminent authority on Kidney diseases, who makes the statement that it will relieve almost any case of Kidney trouble if taken before the stage of Bright's disease. He states that such symptoms as lame back, pain in the side, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, painful and discolored urination, are readily overcome. Here is the recipe. Try it:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kardon one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

A well known druggist here in town is authority that these ingredients are all harmless and easily made at home by shaking well in a bottle. This mixture has a peculiar healing and soothing effect upon the entire Kidney and Urinary structure, and often overcomes the worst forms of Rheumatism in just a little while. This mixture is said to remove all blood disorders and cure the Rheumatism by forcing the Kidneys to filter and strain from the blood and system all uric acid and foul, decomposed waste matter, which cause these afflictions. Try it if you aren't well. Save the prescription.

No Improvement

Little Johnnie Snyder, of Ekron, who was accidentally shot by Stanley Brown, is not any better and his condition has occasioned much apprehension in his family.

Eye-glass comfort depends on three conditions:—Careful selection of lenses by an oculist, accurate grinding of lenses to the highest finish and accurate adjustment of the lenses to each eye. The latter important condition we consider this the most difficult for the general optician to attain, on account of the distance between the eyes and the shape and size of the nose vary in each individual. The ART of accurate fitting therefore becomes a scientific and mechanical combination, and in this ART I offer you the greatest inducements. Children's spectacles should be frequently adjusted to their eyes as their rapid growth demands it. This adjusting receives our careful attention. For consultation free call on Sam Englander. He will be at the Pate House from Nov. 2nd, to Nov. 14.

MAKING GOOD.

A valuable man to have in town is Will Pate, the foreman of the Cloverport Foundry. Mr. Pate is to a machine what the doctor is to a person he can always start the wheel again after it has run down. The Breckenridge News could hardly run its plant without the willing and excellent services of Mr. Pate.

Many of the steam boats, gasoline tugs and launches come to this port where anything is wrong about their engines and call for Mr. Pate. He is one man on the Ohio river that made good when it comes to doctoring a machine.

No one can question that the cash system is the best system of doing business when they note the success of Julian Brown. Not a pound of butter nor a sack of salt can be taken from Mr. Brown's store unless you have given him the cash in hand. He will not even let you take any goods home with a promise to return immediately with the money for it you have to be "johnny on the spot." Mr. Brown's business has out grown two or three store rooms in Cloverport and this week he is moving into a still larger building.

DIRT ROAD BUILDING.

How to Make the Roadbed Solid and Do Away With Ruts.

In the construction of a new road through an open country the usual custom has been to excavate ditches with the road grader and throw all the material into the center of the roadway, thus making what is often called a turpentine. The objection to this method is that the most important part of the roadbed, the foundation, is composed largely of soft material, which does not easily become consolidated. A better way would be to remove entirely all sod from the portions excavated and use it for filling in the low places, where it can be covered with at least three feet of earth, says Samuel H. Lea, state engineer of South Dakota. The soil is removed the road grader can be properly used for carrying up the earth into the roadway, and the entire roadbed is formed of solid material, which in its future settling will be compacted uniformly and will be less likely to develop soft spots, as would be the case if sod is thrown into it indiscriminately. On a level or nearly level prairie the roadbed could be built up a foot or two above the original surface to provide suitable drainage from the center of the roadway to the ditches, and the crown of the road should be sufficient to allow the water from rainfalls to be quickly carried off. A good road in order to stay good must be properly maintained and kept in good condition. A very important feature of proper maintenance is that of keeping the ruts out by continual raking or dragging. Whenever ruts are allowed to remain they will hold water from every rain, which, unless removed, will soften the roadbed and result in chuck holes, injurious alike to the team, the wagon and the driver. The process of dragging, smoothing and planing the road with one of the numerous styles of road rakes now happily coming into use in many localities is so simple and inexpensive that there is no excuse for allowing any road to become rough and rutty through neglect.

Remedy For Bad Roads.

The remedy for bad roads, it seems to me, lies wholly with the men who own property along them. Elect no man to the position of overseer who does not understand how to make good roads out of poor ones. If there is no such man in your neighborhood, hire one from outside. This is the wisest times out of a hundred, the wisest thing to do, for the chances are that there is no man in the neighborhood who has had practical experience enough to make it his duty to trust the work to him, says Eben E. Rexford in the Outing Magazine for June. He may have good sense, good judgment and all that—in short, there may be the making of a good road builder in him—but what you need is a man who is a good road builder, a man who has got the trade directly learned, and for whom, you can't afford to wait for words, talent to develop if the man who has developed his skill in that direction is procurable. Hire a man who took paid in cash. Secure a skilled man, and let him assume responsibility for the work he undertakes. If you do this, you stand in a fair way to solve the problem of good roads.

"I want a photograph representing me just as I am. None of this touching up business, no retouching." "You are in the wrong shop," replied the artistic photographer. "Better try the police station. It's a Bertillon style of picture you're after."—Philadelphia Ledger.

FOUR GIRLS

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Read What They Say.

Miss Lillian Ross, 530 East 84th Street, New York, writes: "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured my irregular periods, suffering, and after everything else had failed to help me, and I feel it is my duty to let others know of it."—Kansas City, Mo.

Lafayette St., Denver, Col., writes: "Thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I am well after suffering for months from nervous prostration."—Miss Marie Stolman, of Laurel, Ia., writes: "I was in run-down condition and suffered from nervous prostration, and poor circulation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well."—Miss Ellen M. Olson, of 411 N. East St., St. Paul, Minn., writes: "Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me of backache, headache, and established me, and enabled me to feel better after the best local doctors had failed to help me."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, nervous prostration, and all other ailments peculiar to women. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write to her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

DANGER IN DELAY

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for Cloverport People To Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, which has cured people right here in Cloverport.

Geo. F. Megerle, living on River St., Cloverport, Ky., says: "For three months I was unable to do any work whatever. My kidneys were in a disordered condition, and I could not pass the secretions without suffering intensely, and finally my feet became so badly swollen that I was unable to get on my shoes. There was a dull pain in the small of my back which extended into my head and although I tried a number of different remedies, I was unable to find relief. Finally Doan's Kidney Pills came to my attention, and I procured them at Fisher's Drug Store. I used them according to directions, and in six weeks I was entirely free from kidney trouble. I attribute my present health solely to the curative powers of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

VANITY OF CONVICTS.

The Way Some Men Spruce Up in the Penitentiary.

"The vainest lot of men I ever did know are behind these walls," remarked a convict in the penitentiary. "For fastidious dressing and cleanliness I have never seen anything like it. Those who have been accustomed to slopping up on the outside grow much more in here, and those who never even combed their hair on the outside have it as cleanly parted as they can get. I know of a hundred instances where convicts have risked being paddled or having time taken away just for the sake of shaving their heads. They are told of an opportunity to press their trousers. They save collars for Sundays and appear very clean and neat and nice in chapel. I guess it is all for themselves more than here. If a man has nothing but pride to think about he takes more pride in himself. Or maybe they want something with which to pass away the time in their cells."—Columbus Dispatch.

Blankets of Bark.

In Ecuador, one of the South American republics, the bark of a tree which grows on the slopes of the Andes is utilized for the making of blankets. The blanket is over six feet long and over five feet wide and is as soft and pliable as though it were made of flannel. It is about the thickness of a good flannel blanket and can be rolled up and put in a strap without hurting or injuring it. This tree or bark blanket is merely a strip of bark cut from a section of the trunk of the blanket or demajagua tree. The Indians make a cutting around the trunk to get it, and they prepare it by soaking it in water until it is soft. It is then pounded so that the rough outside can be stripped off and the inside alone left. The inside is of fine fibers so joined together by nature that it makes a beautiful blanket, warm enough to be used as a cover and soft enough for a mattress.

A Clock Case Made of Pennies.

A novelty in clockmaking consists of a timepiece whose case is made of English pennies. The coins, of which there are ninety-six, all bear the date 1797 and were beaten out to almost double their original size and then riveted together, while the figures were made of small strips of copper cemented on to the face. The clock stands fourteen inches high and is eight inches broad at the base. That "time is money" is an adage with which we all more or less agree, but this is a case in which the saying might be reversed and still remain true. The clock is owned by a resident of Laurel Bank, Ulster, Yorkshire, England.

The Family Dog.

An Edinburgh clergyman says: "Every family should have a dog. It is like a perpetual baby. It betrays no secrets, never sulks, asks no troublesome questions, never gets into debt, never comes down late to breakfast and is always ready for a bit of fun."

The Hellish—Oh, papa! The earl has proposed!

"What a splendid proposal!—What! What's his proposition?—Fuck."

A healthy man is a king in his own right; an unhealthy man is an unhappy slave. He who keeps his body up sound health—keeps you well.

The Zotwots, the Children's Friends

From Uncle Remus—The Home Magazine for October

A WARNING TO MADJIKY MINISTERS

Verse and Picture by R. J. Dean

CONCERNING THE ZOTWOTS

The Zotwots are an amiable people living near Annapolis, which is the capital of Maryland. They fill a long-forgotten want, for even the "housewife" and such fearful things have been told by generations to frighten naughty children. In the Zotwots the children have something with which to frighten the naughty. Henceforth, when the Zotwots are mentioned, we exclaim that who are amiable children, and the early stages of the Zotwots. And the Jay-fowl will always stand on hand, the serious, earnest, yet amiable Jay-fowl—the pet of the Zotwots.

A preacher quite florid,
Whose sermons were torrid,
Said children disturbed him in church,
The Zotwots, with a grave,
Blinked him snook through the air
And garlanded that minister man
With his very own talk,
Till he plighted like chalk,
And clattered with many a blurch.

P. S.

Now the Jay-fowl never does forget
The things the Zotwots do;
For the Jay-fowl is the Zotwots' pet,
And the Zotwots know it, too.

To Save Time.

The Parson—I intend to pray that you may forgive Casey for throwing that brick at you. The Patient—Mebbe yer riverence will be saving time; it yed just wait till Oi get well and then pray for Casey—London Fun.

Hard Luck.

Wife—What luck? Husband—None whatever. Wife—Were there any servants at the intelligence office? Husband—Yes, lots of them, but they had all worked for us before—Saturday Sunset.

What Willie Saw.

When Willie saw a peacock for the first time he said to his mother: "Oh, mamma, you should have seen it! Electric lights all over the ferns and a turkey underneath!"—Delineator.

"So your yacht was wrecked? Strike a bar?" "No the skipper had struck a bar before we started."—Philadelphia Ledger.

"Suffered day and night the torment of itching pills. Nothing helped me until I used Doan's Ointment. It cured me permanently."—Hon. John R. Garrett, Mayor, Girard, Ala.

Road Building Picnic.

"Don't you people ever work the roads in this section?" asked an automobilist as he tried the rear wheel of his machine out of a rut with a fence rail.

"Work 'em? Well, I should say we do," answered Uncle Charlie Beaver from the top rail of the fence. "Why, we work these roads on th' assessment plan. None of that money system for us fellows. Every farm is assessed so many days' work on th' highway, an' after th' farm work is all done an' we ain't nuttin' else ter do we all turn out, thirty or forty of us, with plovers, horses, picks, shovels an' hoes to work th' roads. I tell you, it's a picnic. Work? Why, they make th' dirt dry until they get tired. Then we find some shady spot to rest, eat our lunch, drink some cider, smoke an' maully play a game of two or seven up. An' we call it a day."

We have passed the fifty milestone in our existence. During that time we have grown from a small beginning to a large and prosperous business. We have endeavored to keep abreast of the times, providing for our depositors every safe-guard known to their protection and security. Our funds are guarded by a modern burglary and fire-proof safe, and insurance is carried to cover losses by either burglary or robbery. We pay 4 per cent. interest on time deposits, which is more than any other bank in Breckinridge county pays.

We believe in paying our patrons all we can for the use of their money. The late disastrous bank failures have demonstrated that it is not the oldest and largest bank that is the safest. We take this opportunity to thank our customers whose patronage has helped to make this the largest and best statement in our five years of business. Respectfully,
